KEELEY IN ITS NEW HOME.

Magnificent Effort of Mr. Mowbray at the Opening.

INSTITUTE'S ELEGANT QUARTERS.

"A Place Where Shackles are Stricken from Human Limbs and Fangs Extracted From Human Souls."

A considerable crowd gathered at the new Keeley Institute yesterday to that there was no law and regulation be present at the formal opening in in North Carolina. His cause for response to the invitation of the management. Had it been generally known what a treat was in store for those who heard the speech of Mr. Mowbray the crowd would have been five times as large as it was. It is impossible not to feel sorry for those who missed it.

The reporter thought it was an accident for the first few minutes and tried to catch a few of the "jewels five words long" that the speaker was throwing away but he soon learned better and giving up in despair, the reporter was lost in the auditor. For an hour and a quarter the audience under the old oaks sat spell bound. while the orator showed what a magnificent vehicle of thought is the English as it can be spoken. After hearing the leading orators of the country it must be said in justice to Mr. Mowbray that never once has he heard a man who was more completely master of the language. There was the 'nameless charm' that only a few can

Ladies made up a considerable part of the audience and turning to them the speaker said that "ever since the day when woman was last the cross and first at the sepulchre she has been the first in every good work and the last to relinquish it." Therefore they were found at the opening of a "place where the shackles will be stricken from human limbs and the fangs extracted from human souls." He paid a tribute to Mrs. Gray that was incomparably fine and would be published if it could be had. Speaking of the past of the Keeley Institute he said he had distributed $97,000 in Greensboro and $16,000 in pure charity. The speaker gave a history of his own life, saying that for eighteen years he was the slave of both opium and alcohol: that he tried every noted physician and every sanitarium in Europe and America; that finally, when a physical and mental wreck, he tried the Keeley treatment and in five weeks was turned out cured and a new man. After that, he said, he resolved to never lose an opportunity to bear testimony to its value. It was magnificient testimonial to the beneficence of the Keeley remedy. Dr. Weaver opened the exercises with prayer and Dr. Egbert W. Smith introduced the speaker in a few -well chosen words as "one of the first speakers of our country"-a title that was ably warranted. After the address the doors of the fine old homestead, which has been beautified and enlarged without destroying the charm of the old, was thrown open to the inspection of vis-

The building has been fitted up thoroughly, has bath, smoking and club rooms and all the appliances that contribute to comfort in these days. With its broad lawn, grand old trees, quiet locality and commodious interior there is no more delightful place to spend a few weeks than the new quarters of the Keely Institute. Seventyfive patients can be accommodated with ease and one hundred when necessary. Refinement and ease, comfort and healing, "the striking of shackles from human limbs and extracting fangs from human souls," this is what the new Keely has to offer. Col. W. H. Osborne remains as President; William Lipscomb, manager; Dr. B. B. Williams, physician in charge, Mrs. Banks, matron.

The First Resignation.

The resignation of R. W. Nading as clerk to the district attorney is the first to occur under the civil service laws and it is not known what steps will be taken as to the appointment of his successor. It is believered, however, that J. E. Buxton, whose name has been forwarded to the department for the place, will be appointed.-Winston

JARRELL HOTEL CHANGES HANDS

Southern's Improvements Couldn't Stand Salisbury-Personals.

TELEGRAM BUREAU, HIGH POINT, N. C., Oct. 22, '97.

There was a man on the northbound train last night, pulling from the glorious Old North State, who declared that he intended getting as far away as the train would carry him. He was very indignant because the authorities of Salisbury pulled a hobo and set him to ball-bearing, when "he want doing nothing but beatin'-his way." He rejoiced that he would soon be across the Virginia line, declaring complaint was that the authorities of Salisbury wanted him to ante up half his taxes and show cause why he should not pay the balance, or else pay $100 fine and work 30 days with ball and chain attachment. "What am I going to stay here for?" he concluded. "I ain't no dern fool!"

The Jarrel Hotel changed hands yesterday afternoon, Mr. N. H. Slaughter taking charge. The jolly knights of the grip all over the land will be glad to know "Uncle Whiskers" has turned landlord. We hope and expect the new management to be a prosperous one.

W. P. Ragan returned to Greensboro last night.

Superintendent O'Brien and Vice-President Gannon, of the Southern, were in High Point, in their respective private cars, inspecting the road's premises about the depot. The Southern has decided to extend the freight platform and to construct a roof over it. The ever increasing bulk of freight coming to and from High Point has, of course, justified this step. A new side track will also be laid. These improvements will be made at once.

Washington, Oct. 22.- The report of First Assistant Postmaster General Heath for the fiscal year ending June 30, was made public today. Washington, Oct. 22. - Secretary his annual report to increase the personnel of the navy by more than 100 officers, 1,500 enlisted men and 500 apprentices. The rapid growth of the new navy has resulted in placing more ships in service and more captains are consequently needed. Captain Croninshield has urged that 15 captains be added to the list of officers of that grade.

SILENCE WERE BETTER.

As a piece of argument surely there is nothing more fearfully and wonderfully made than Governor Russell's attempted justification of his acceptance of free passes as printed in yesterday's TELEGRAM. After_admitting that he has a "pocketful" and declaring that he will continue to receive all that may be sent him he offers this in justification of his course:

"As long as they offer me their passes, along with those Federal judges who stand in with the monopoly crowd, just so long will I take them. I will refuse my passes if Judge Simonton will refuse his pass and palace car. If he will quit, I will quit; but if he keeps on, I will keep on. Perhaps he will keep on the longer; at any rate his superior claim is not de-

Now mark you Governor Russell has inveighed against the use of free passes in the strongest language at his command. He has made himself conspicuous and notorious by his diatribes on just that head; when forced to declare his own conduct behold his justification. Senator Butler prints it without comment and apparently considers it an ample excuse.

Mr. Russell is the Governor of the State and is reputed an excellent lawyer, yet there is not a crime on our penal statutes that his method of argument could not be made to justify nor a court of justice that it would not render a nullity. "It is wrong but some one else does it and so may I." And this from a Governor. We challenge any and all to produce from any governor of any state within the past quarter of a century and utterance so puerile. It is enough to make every citizen of the state blush for the pitable, whimsical, childish weakness

If it had not appeared in a paper that constitutes itself the organ of Governor Russell it would have been open to the suspicion of being fabricated-so startling is it. It is difficult to conceive of Mr. Russell's reasons for giving such utterances to the public. One cannot help wishing that some friend would implore His Excellency for the honor of the State of which he is the chief executive to be

If he believes it wrong to receive a free pass he should reject it; if he receives it he should have the manliness not to shield himself behind any man.

What Judge Simonton may or may not do cannot concern the Governor of North Carolina either in his public or his private actions. The state has a right to expect of him that he shall stand adequately for the dignity, the purity, the intelligence of the commonwealth, doing naught that shall injure or disgrace her and saying nothing that shall shame her in her own eyes or the eyes of others. Let us have an end of this jibbering, an end of vapid nonsense. The charity of silence would be the greatest boon the Governor could bestow upon the State.

THE effect of Chicago oratory on the New York voter is problematic. Mr. Croker would have been wiser to leave Mayor Harrison at home.

IT was very nice and kind of the great, big New York World to use the poor, little TELEGRAM'S write-up of the tortured elephant, and it was welcome to it, after we were through with it, but if it was worth using it was at least worth crediting. The literary morals of the World, or its state correspondent, would be the better for a little half-soleing.

LORD SALISBURY has replied to the monetary commission that he is exceedingly sorry, that under existing conditions it pains him to declare that it is not quite convenient for England to take into consideration the appointment of delegates to the commission to consider the feasibility of taking steps looking to the possible rehabilitation of silver.

WE called attention some time since to Mr. Butler's fondness for the word 'people." Here is one sentence from his interview: "The people want the cooperation of those people in the state who think alike." The "people" don't want co-operation with Mr. Butler and his likes, whatever he may think.

THE New York Sun, having shown Seth Low to be a liar, a fool, a hyprocrite and several other things, is now proceeding to demonstate that he did not give Columbia college a million dollars, but by a process of compound interest only a measley little seven hundred and fifty thousand.

THIS is a dreadfully sorry little onehorse power country, according to the ideas of John Bull, but the fact remains that American liberality feeds England's starving citizens in India and Ireland, and now her striking workingmen appeal to this coun-

New York, Oct. 21 .- "I would be thankful if you would send me the addresses of some dealers in counterfeit money," writes a man in Ash Grove, Mo., to Postmaster Van Cott. "I inclose 10 cents in stamps, and if you know of any such addresses please send them."

The postmaster receives an assort ment of curious requests by almost every mail. He is asked to find lost boys from the country, to negotiate the sale of farms, to secure engagements upon the metropolitan stage for young ladies who have "made a success" in suburban ameteur dramatic societies, and even to suggest names for babies; but this is the first time, says the postmaster, that an opportunity to participate in the green goods business has been afforded him. The postmaster's correspondent is evidently very much in earnest, and signs his full name.

The True Remedy. W. M. Repine, editor Tiskilwa, Ill., 'Chief,' says: "We won't keep house without Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, coughs and colds. Experimented with many others, but never got the true remedy until we used Dr. King's New Discovery. No other remedy can take its place in our home as in it we have a certain and sure cure for coughs, colds, whooping cough, etc." It is idle to experiment with other remedies, even if they are urged on you as just as good as Dr. King's New Discovery. They are not as good, because this remedy has a record of cures and besides is guaranteed. It never fails to satisfy. Trial bottles free at C. E. Holton's drug

News of the Old North State.

The cotton weigher at Wadesboro has been arrested on a charge criminally weighing a bale of cotton.

Thieves broke into a box car at Concord and stole a five gallon keg of whiskey. The have not been caught.

Col. Julian S. Carr, of Durham, has accepted an invitation to open Winston's big tobacco fair with a address on November 3d.

Billie Garrett a convict guard in Durham county accidentally discharged his gun yesterday, the entire load passing through his right arm and shattering the bone between the elbow and shoulder.

The two young men arrested and lodged in jail at Newton for burglary at Hickory some days ago escaped yesterday and have not been retaken: The jailor was absent and the colored waiter carelessly left the door open.

Thieves went through eight of the boarders at the Harrison House last night and made a good haul. From G. E. Flow, of the board of agriculture, they got his money, and from J. C. Ray, of Watauga, of the same board, $200 in money and notes. From one of the Wilbur Opera Company they took an overcoat, a suit and $15. Flow said he saw the thief, who coolly pretended to be drunk.-F. A. Olds in Charlotte Observer.

In Alleghany county Wednesday a man by the name of Johnson shot and killed a man named Murphy and dangerously wounded Murphy's brother. They fell out over the division of some rent corn. The above affair happened at Edmonds postoffice about 1 o'clock yesterday. Johnson was arrested and placed in jail at Sparta last night. This makes three murder cases to be tried at the next court which does not convene until March, 1898.

Special from Monroe to the Charlotte Observer of today says: "A homicide occurred at Waxhaw, in this county, of which the details are maegre. Wm. Crow, constable for Jackson township, went to arrest Andy Meeks, a negro, leged, the negro drew his pistol to resist, whereupon Crow drew his pistol and fired two shots, striking the negro in the bowels. The man died yesterday afternoon. The constable, it is said, will give himself up."

The North Carolina Foresty Society was organized yesterday at the State Fair. It starts with twenty members. W. E. Petty, of Carthage, was elected president; C. A. Schenck, of Biltmore, vice-president, and W. W. Ashe, secretary. The forest products of the-State are among its most important going after another lot. sources of income, amounting for the eastern counties alone to more than Lord Rosebery Visits Prince Bismarck. twelve million dollars. The society has for its object the improvement and perpetuity of the forests of the State, their protection from fires and their renewal. The next meeting will be held at Newbern during the fair, when addresses will be delivered by State Geologist Holmes and other members.

The Populist leaders held a conference in Raleigh and Senator Butler gave Col. Olds the following interview in regard to it: "We will elect an anti-monopoly legislature. The money question will be one of the issues. We could not keep it out, even if we wanted to. There will be co-operation on reform in North Carolina in freight and passenger rates, the question of injunctions, etc. The issues which will preponderate will be those which were defeated in the last legislature. Politicians and party legislation cannot prevent us from electing a reform legislature. You ask me whether we will fuse. I answer that the People's party is in favor of the people co-operting against their natural, enemies, no matter what party they are in. The people want co-operation of those people in the state who think alike. We did that last year in the national elec-

Home People.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., April 5, 1895.

MRS. JOE PERSON,
Madam:— last year I was afflicted with some skin trouble affecting my feet, pronounced by my physician to be erythema. I was confined to my room for some two months and was lame for six months or more. After trying many remedies without effecting a cure, I resorted to your Remedy. After taking three bottles I began to improve, and before I had finished the fifth or sixth bottle I was practically free of the trouble. Once since then there recurred symptoms of its return, when I again resorted to your Remedy, and again the trouble disappeared. I believe I am indebted to you for relief from a very serious affliction.

Yours truly,
HAMILTON C. JONES. MRS. JOE PERSON.

BRIEF LOCAL MATTERS.

Miss Mamie Doak is reported to be improving we are glad to state.

Go to the organ fund concert tonight. Admission twenty-five cents.

Better get your seat for the Scalchi concert reserved at once. They are going fast.

The Guilford College foot ball team went down to Raleigh this morning to play the A. & M. college team.

The sale of reserved seats for the Scalchi concert will be closed at exact-

People are coming to the Scalchi concert from High Point, Winston, Reidsville, Asheboro, and perhaps other towns. It is expected that a packed house will greet the celebrated singer.

Mme. Scalchi and her troupe will arrive in the city on the 6:30 train from Danville to night, and will stop | lege. at the Benbow. The troupe consists of seven people, including Mme. Scal-

The attendance at Centenary church was larger last night. The pastor announced services again tonight. The church should be crowded at these services. Let all who can possibly do so go tonight.

S. E. Hudson and Jim Jordan went squirrel hunting yesterday down about J. H. Gilmer's place, and bagged fifteen of the festive nut crackers. Last night they took a turn at coon hunting and had the fun of catching one. Very good days sport.

We would like to again impress you with the idea that Greeensboro is specially fortunate in securing the celebrated Scalchi concert company for one night. They only stop in the largest cities, such as Richmond, Norfolk, Raleigh and Charlotte.

J. H. Gilmer, the Globe plow man from near McLeansville, was in the city this morning. He is doing quite a business, runs a cotton gin, wool cards, makes plows and plow handles, and is getting in shape to make spokes and axe handles. Better move to Greensboro, Mr. Gilmer.

AT THE COURT-HOUSE TONIGHT.

Concert for West Market Street Church Organ Fund.

The court-house should be full of people tonight. *The cause for which the concert is given is one which should receive the hearty and liberal support of our people.

One of the most beautiful churches in North Carolina has been built by the West Market street church congregregation. It has required a sacrifice on the part of many, and now the end is in sight. Just a little pull, all together, and this splendid church edifice will be equipped with a handsome pipe organ.

This concert, by home talent, is given to swell the organfund, and we hope the efforts of the ladies, who have the matter in charge, will be appreciated and that a full house will greet them

The recitation by Miss Cozart and the singing of Miss Orr will be special features. Price of admission is only 25 cents. Let everybody go.

Two Weeks in Italy.

A rare treat is in store for our people. Dr. C. Alphonso Smith has consented to deliver his lecture, "Two Weeks in Italy," on next Tuesday night at the Academy of Music, under the auspices of the Emma Gray Missionary Society.

The lecturer will give his impressions of Italian life and scenery as witnessed in Milton, Venice, Florence, Rome and Pompeii. There will be descriptions of a gondola ride, St. Peters Cathedral, the Catacombs of Rome, the curiosities of Pompeii, the Vesuvius, etc. Admission twenty-five cents. No reserved seats.

Did You Ever?

Did you ever see one of those handsome dining room pictures painted in rich colors, representing a table with a beautiful spread piled high with various kinds of tropical fruits—in short a picture that made your mouth water? That is a beautiful picture, but something prettier than that is shown at Lindau's. The real fruit arranged in shapely pyramids and hanging in graceful festoons in the show window. If you don't like fruit don't look at it, it's too tempting.

TRESTLE BUNRNED LAST NIGHT.

The Railroad Bridge Across Reedy Fork Near Summerfield.

The long trestle across Reedy Fork creek near Summerfield, on the Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley road, was partially destroyed by fire last night. It is presumed that the fire origininated from a spark from the engine of a freight train, passing there about ten o'clock.

The fire was discovered before the entire bridge was burned down, though a large part was destroyed. It will require a good deal of work to repair the damage. We learn that four rails were warped so that new ones will have to be used.

Passengers and baggage will be transferred until the burnt part can be

It does seem rather improbable that a spark from an engine would burn a bridge so wet as this one must have been from the recent rains and in such damp weather. Had it burned a week ago when everything was so dry it would not have seemed at all improb-
